

DO WHAT YOU HAVE TO DO
TO KEEP YOUR TEENS SAFE.

Teens are abusing pills, prescriptions, and medicines that are easily accessible in the home. This behavior has many dangerous outcomes, including possible death. You have the power to prevent this. Here's what you can do:

Safeguard all the prescription drugs in your home.

Ask friends and family to do the same.

Monitor quantities and control access.

Set clear rules about drug use and consequences for breaking them.

Be a good role model by not sharing prescription medicines.

Properly dispose of old or unneeded prescription drugs.
